SPECIAL EDUCATION

BACHELOR OF ARTS DEGREE (MILD INTERVENTION)

3-YEAR, FAST-TRACK

John Purdue, founder of Purdue University and a TEACHER in his early days

FOR JOHN PURDUE, EDUCATION WAS THE FLAME THAT LIT THE WORLD.

A degree in special education enables you to meet the unique needs of individuals with disabilities and this special three-year, fast-track option is perfect for driven students who want to get to their careers one year early. The fast-track experience includes all of the same coursework and classroom experiences as the traditional, four-year program—just at an accelerated pace. Get licensed in mild intervention for preschool through grade twelve.

If you're an accomplished, highly organized student interested in saving on tuition and moving on to a special education classroom of your own or to graduate school in just three years, this is the program for you.
